DDS
1. Mr. Amory's plans to take Introduction to Communism have not been changed and he will begin on 2 July, missing the first two days. At his request we have forwarded transcripts of the lectures which will be given during his absence. This running of the course will take place in the auditorium of rather than in R&S building.

2. Although I did not succeed in getting any firm guidance from IO representatives in concerning the substance of my luncheon talk to the directors of the they appeared to be satisfied with the presentation. I got the impression that it was not so much the substance they were interested in, but rather a "pep talk" to persuade these people of the importance of the contribution which they were making in opposing international Communist efforts. Since this appeared to be the case I concentrated my remarks on current Communist thinking and activities in the political, economic, and cultural areas. A number of them appeared to be unaware of and quite surprised to hear about Communist political gains over the past few years.

5. Since I will not be present at the 27 June senior staff meeting because of a lecture commitment at NIS, I pass along Harry Rositzke's greetings and "regrets that he was not able to contact" you. I spoke to him only briefly on the phone prior to his departure on 25 June. We had hoped to have a session with him on the very significant Communist developments in that area, but he was not available.
